His grandfather, Gen William Henry Harrison, won renown as a soldier and statesman, and was elected President in 1840. General Harrison, entered Miami University, Oxford, O., at the age of sixteen and was graduated at eighteen. He has a legal mind, and on quitting college commenced the study of law in Cincinnati with the Hon. B. S. Storer. In 1854 he removed to Indianapolis, where he began the practice of his profession. In 1860 Mr. Harrison was nominated for Reporter of the Supreme Court, and was elected. In 1868 he declined a re-election as Reporter of the Supreme Court, and resumed the practice of law. In 1876 he became the candidate for Governor and was defeated. In 1880 he was elected to the Senate to succeed Mr. McDonald. He served but one term, then returning to his law practice at Indianapolis. Gen. Harrison is most happily married and is the father of two children, Mr. Jas. S. Harrison...
